Congrès des Doctorants PhD conference

Organization tasks :

But uncertainties for 2021 because of continuing COVID19...

- Prepare and send conference call for abstracts, receive abstracts and organize program, invite foreign students (or other ED students ?).
- Invite, select, welcome and guide foreign PhD participants - and/or other ED ?
- Set conference web site, design conference posters and program booklet. Advertise the conference.
- “Careers in Science” day: Organize full day talks and discussions with speakers already working industry and academia (invite participants, manage the day). 2021 ?
- Logistics : order goodies, organize coffee breaks, organize teams for on site logistics (sessions, coffee breaks...)
- Coordination, between different organizing teams and between TE and PU.
- Set general conferences theme (" Exoplanets " in 2020), organize conferences and invite speakers

For 2021, re-use some work done for the cancelled 2019 CDD

Congrès des Doctorants PhD conference

In 2020, 7 organizing teams :

1 person coordinates each team

- Program web
- Program meeting
- Communication
- Foreign Students
- “Journée Emploi” 2021 ?
- Logistics
- Coordination

Background material :

- Organizing reports and documents from previous years
- List of registered PhD students with PhD title and year into diploma

Advice and support from now till the conference in march :

- Robin Lacassin (TE) – Alexis Coleiro (PU)
- the organizing teams for 2020 and in particular their coordinators

And for budget issues : Admin. staff ED STEP'UP + association HEKLA

Congrès des Doctorants PhD conference

To do now !

- Discuss, get and listen feedback by last year's organizers.
- Think about in which team you are interested for organizing next conference

- Think if you would like to be a team coordinator.

Exciting, you'll learn a lot, meet people, excellent team management experience, good for CV !

But it is hard work, and a sense of the collective is critical.

- We will set a first meeting soon with all D1 to start the work, and coordinate with former organizers (now D2)

Objective of this meeting: form the teams and define the method and calendar for the organization of the 2020 edition.
